Foxx Life Sciences' EZgrip™ Amber Carboy is an advanced fluid handling system developed with the end-user in mind. The ergonomically designed EZgrip™ body, coupled with our VersaCap® technology, provides an easy-to-use and easy-to-clean carboy.

The EZgrip™ carboy's body includes design features that allow the user to easily hold and manipulate during lifting, filling, and pouring while the VersaCap® technology provides interchangeable and leak-proof top connections. The carboy features include a set of handles at the top and bottom of the carboy, easy-to-read embossed graduation marks, and a molded-in material-type identification mark.

The EZgrip™ Amber Carboy offers an EZfil™ wide-mouth version for easier filling and cleaning. This is available for both the 20L and 40L carboys.

The EZgrip™ Dark Amber Polypropylene Carboy is made from a hard, opaque material that offers good chemical resistance and heat stability. Amber polypropylene carboys may also be autoclaved.
